

Mary Prado

Embrace, KISS & Let Go

Mary Prado. Does that name ring a bell? You may be right.

In the mid nineties this lady made dance records with the producers of the European dance act 2Unlimited. With the songs I Get Up and Deep Inside Of Me she hit the charts in Australia, Scandinavia and Japan. Since then she has been the leading singer in one of the most popular cover bands in the Randstad, Netherlands, called Driftkickers.

In recent years Maria del Carmen Prado Balboa, a Spanish native, born and raised in Rotterdam, felt the need to make a very personal album with songs written by herself and stories about the ups and downs in her life. Compositions such as Beautiful Dark Side, Could Have Been and Can Forgive Not Forget speak volumes. In the studio of producer Sebastiaan Brouwer (Isabelle Amé and Kelvin Muis, a.o.) Embrace, KISS & Let Go was accomplished. A beautiful collection of original songs with a strong contemporary sound. Expressive, personal and in an international manner.

Mary Prado has proven for many years that she keeps her ground on stage. So she does with this album with a variety of songs, soul ballads and smashing rock songs. With a hint of electro pop this album is surprisingly in line with her dance tracks from the nineties. All lines of Mary's life come together in Embrace, KISS & Let Go.

The first single-cd is Mama, again a personal song about the changing nature of the relationship between a mother and child during the course of years. The song is accompanied by a beautiful video in which mothers and their children participated. A wonderful prelude to Mother's Day on May 11, 2014.
